"Buy a Sack of Cement" Campaign in City Reveals How People Feel About It

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Engineers Declare Site Selected Is Best and Most Economical in City

The boys and girls of Bismarck want a swimming pool. The grown-ups want a swimming pool. Nearly everybody wants a swimming pool. Won't you help the Elks put it over? What is money worth as compared to a boy's happiness? What is money worth as compared to a boy's health? What is money worth as compared to a boy's life?

This sentiment was expressed today by an active supporter of the campaign to put a swimming pool in Bismarck.

The Elks' committee in charge of the affair radiated confidence and determination today. The boys' committee which sold bags of cement Saturday in the city reported about $2,000 for the fund. They made small sales all through the city.

The money the boys brought in was not what inspired the committee with enthusiasm—it was the report that they found a general sentiment through to city, among people of all ages, all classes, in favor of the movement.

"The thing is going over," declared a member of the committee today. "Work on that pool is going to be started in ten days."

Everybody to Help

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week every citizen is going to be asked to lend his financial aid to the movement. The Elks are prepared to provide the greatest single contribution.

A letter was handed to L. K. Thompson, a member of the committee, with a check from a voluntary contributor.

The letter read:

"Enclosed find a young check. Knowing you crave exercise, any time you feel the need of labor buy a sack of cement and help the swimming pool. If you can work out more than this let me know."

The men behind the movement are prepared to answer the many speculations regarding the pool.

Site Excellent.

First of all, they say positively that competent engineers have investigated the site in Custer park, the drainage, water supply, and all other problems connected. It is an ideal site, they say. It will drain easily. The pool can be built cheaper at this spot than at any other in the city.

Second, the cost of maintenance is negligible. A letter from a man regarding the Grand Forks pool said: "I might say that last year the small charge we made for locker rent, bathing suits and towels exceeded the expense of operating the pool by over $100." The charge was only for persons over 18 years of age.

A full description of the success of the Grand Forks pool will be outlined in The Tribune tomorrow.

HARDING TO RISK POLITICIANS' IRE AND PLACE GOVERNMENT ON SOUND BASIS, HE DECLARES

New York, May 23.—The administration purposes to place the federal government on a sound basis even at the cost of offending "a certain class of politicians," President Harding reaffirmed today in an address at a luncheon of the Academy of Political Science.

The task, the President declared, already had shown that to be successfully completed would require "persistent, stony-hearted devotion to the public interest without a trace of sympathy for the office-holder whose only excuse for drawing a salary is that he needs the money." Loss of a certain source of prestige to the administration, Mr. Harding said, was certain to result though it might be compensated in the long run by a realization of the good accomplished for the general public.

Recapitulating the work already done by the reorganization commission created by congress and executive orders of the administration the President said considerable progress was promised for the immediate future. He predicted that the reorganization task would be a difficult one, however, and asked for the cooperation and support of citizens everywhere and invited suggestions as to ways and means.

Troops Called to Alexandria, Egypt, to Protect Lives of Foreigners

Dispatches Report Bedouins Marching for General Fight

Alexandria, Egypt, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five Europeans were killed and 72 others wounded in rioting here Sunday night and this morning, it was announced at noon today. The police casualties were not given out.

It is rumored that the outbreak arose from the killing of a native by a Greek which led to attacks by the natives and students on Greek and other Europeans.

Ambulances were busy all night taking the wounded to hospitals. Many fires were started and in one district it was reported that people were burned alive.

Before the arrival of the soldiers this morning Europeans had gathered at the government office demanding protection or permission to protect themselves. They greeted the troops upon their arrival with great enthusiasm.

Many in Streets.

A dispatch from Cairo to the Exchange Telegraph company reports many lying in the streets of Alexandria.

A band of 1,500 armed Bedouins, says a Cairo message, is reported to be advancing on Ramleh, five miles north of Alexandria "to participate in a general revolution which but for the presence of the British may succeed."

Many telephone lines have been cut. It is officially announced this afternoon that 23 persons had been killed and 130 wounded.

A.O.U.W. MEETING

Bradley C. Marks Issues Statement on Entertainment of Convention

Bradley C. Marks, Grand Master Workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, jurisdiction of North Dakota, before leaving this city for Fargo expressed his thanks for the reception accorded the convention held here last week. Mr. Marks, in a statement to The Tribune, said:

"The grateful thanks of the Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W. is expressed by the resolutions of the committee on resolutions but I was so impressed with what, to me, was a joyful homecoming that I must individually express my sincere thanks to all of good old Bismarck. I had a personal pride and interest in our session here because I wanted to 'show off' Bismarck, my old home, and I wanted to show Bismarck the kind of men I am associated with. I am proud of Bismarck and I am proud of my associates. Bismarck more than came up to my expectations in its cordial welcome. Every hotel and business man seemed to be glad that we were here and on the look-out for ways and means to entertain. The Commercial club and Town Criers helped us in many ways. The Masonic bodies rendered us a great service by granting the use of the temple for our evening. The city commission received us cordially and helped in the success of our session. The Bismarck Tribune has the grateful praises of our representatives and myself for the many courtesies extended and the excellent manner in which it reported the coming and the proceedings of our session. I know that this kindness was all due to the good, wholesome hospitality of the people of Bismarck but incidentally Bismarck has won the good will and praise of men from all corners of the states of North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, and California. You must know that after spending twenty years of my life in Bismarck I had a particular interest in this gathering of ours and now that it is over and our boys have gone home with the praise of our city on their lips I am happy and glad that I can say that I lived in Bismarck. Please do me the honor to always count me one of Bismarck's people."

On May 29, Dr. J. Sidney Peters, a noted southern orator, will speak on "The Greatest Issue Before Mankind" in the local pulpit.

The Victory Prayer band will meet on Tuesday evening. Rev. Gilbert Lord Wilson, author of "Christ in Chronology" and other books will deliver the message. His subject will be "The Second Coming of Christ."

Arthur Schorer Pleads Guilty; Case Under Advisement by Authorities

BAKER GOES TO PRISON
Confessed Forger is Given Three Years at Hard Labor by Judge Nuesse

George Baker, confessed forger, is in the state prison today for a three-year stay. The case of Arthur Schorer, the prowler, is under advisement.

Both men were before Judge Nuesse in district court late Saturday afternoon, and both entered pleas of guilty.

Baker formerly was in Mandan, where he is said to have stolen a Northern Pacific pay-check list. He had just been discharged from prison here when he forged two checks downtown and was picked up. He was given a thirty-day suspended sentence and then released on his own recognizance. He immediately cashed a check for $30 and was arrested again.

Brought before Judge Nuesse he said he wanted to plead guilty "and get out there and get it over with as soon as I can." He suggested that there was something wrong with his head, that he couldn't control his actions. He was given three years.

Tells Life Story.

Arthur Schorer, the prowler, told an interesting story. He told the court he thought he was about 22 years old—he couldn't say because he was taken from an orphan home in Minneapolis and reared by foster parents. He was shunted to a foster uncle, he said, and ran away, whereupon he was sent to a training school at Red Wing. He told the court he escaped from there sixteen times and was sent to the St. Cloud reformatory.

Schorer told the court he had had a high school education, having gained it while in the reformatory. He is an expert cornetist, and was a leader in the band at the reformatory when discharged, he claimed. He came to Bismarck through an organization for the aid of friendless persons but he claimed his expectations didn't materialize. He obtained employment in a hotel, and needing clothes he said he started prowling around after night and entering houses.

550 in One Home

During his visits to many Bismarck homes he got considerable money, including $50 from the home of J. P. Asar, and also stole some clothes. Schorer caused a lot of people in the city some worry when they learned a prowler was abroad, but it was needless, according to him. He said he never went in a door unless he could open it without breaking the lock, and was careful not to disturb anyone. He is short and of slight build, and would not stand much chance in an encounter with a strong person.

The boy, could not explain his actions, other than he wanted to get some money and get a start, and he seemed very sorry for what he had done, but wanted to plead guilty and have sentence passed immediately. The court, however, desired to get information from the reformatory before acting.

President Symbolizes Grief in Midst of 5,000 Dead Brought From Europe

IT MUST NOT BE AGAIN

President Asks Nation so Powerful None Will Dare Provoke War

New York, May 23.—"It must not be again."

With these solemn words President Harding today laid a wreath on the coffin of the first American soldier to die on German soil at a funeral ceremony for 5,000 war dead at the army piers in Hoboken. His voice husky and his eyes brimmed with tears the president gazed at the rows and rows of coffins. Then he said:

"One hundred thousand sorrows are touching my heart. It must not be again. God grant that it will not be. I do not pretend that the millennial days have come and that there will be no more war. I would wish a nation so powerful that none will dare to provoke its wrath."

Will Never Forget.

"The Republic will never forget the sacrifices these men have made—whether they lie in the soil of the homeland or the grimson soil of the battlefields."

When the president had finished his brief address he stepped forward, stopped in front of the coffin that had been selected to symbolize the army of the dead, surrounding him and laid upon it his wreath of roses and orchids.

Steamer Up Hudson.

Saluted by all manner of craft as the Mayflower steamed up the Hudson to her place in the great line of destroyers this morning President Harding got another salute of 21 guns as he put off in the yacht but for the naval landing stage.

The party motored through Central park, down Fifth avenue and across Twenty-fourth street to the Hudson river, where they crossed on a ferry boat to attend the solemn ceremony in Hoboken.

BURDICK TELLS HIS VIEWS ON
NEW STATE MILL

Explains What He Said to Grain Growers at Meeting Held in Chicago

SAYS STATE NOT BROKE

Williston, N. D., May 23.—Usher L. Burdick, state president of the North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation and member of the board of directors of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., declared on his return from Chicago that he found it necessary in the Chicago conference to speak plainly about the situation in North Dakota.

"There were so many knocks at North Dakota by members of our own committee, who were ignorant of conditions there, and simply took their views from unfriendly newspapers," said Mr. Burdick, "that at last I asked for permission to speak for 15 minutes, and have my remarks incorporated in the minutes. Permission was granted and I had my say."

"I told them I was not a Nonpartisan. I told them I had been fought by the Nonpartisans when I ran for governor. But I told them that we have a constitution in this state. I told them that under that constitution the people of the state have certain rights. One of these rights is to say exactly how the state shall be governed."

"I told them that again and again the people had declared in favor of a state mill and elevator. I showed that it will take only $2,000,000 to build this mill and elevator, and that which it is completed it will hold 1,600 bushels of wheat and will be able to clean and forward 150 cars of wheat per day. I showed that this mill and elevator will fit exactly into the plan of our national sales agency."

"I told them it was all rot about North Dakota being bankrupt. I told them there is no national bank in my town of 5,000 population that has a larger debt than the whole state of North Dakota. I told them we have 230,000 quarter sections of land, with a debt against each of only a few cents. I told them we have $75,000,000 invested in our public institutions. I said we have only God knows how many billions worth of coal lands. I said that, instead of being bankrupt, there isn't a state in the Union so far from bankruptcy as North Dakota."

SITUATION IN
SILESIA SAID
GROWING WORSE

Inhabitants Lose Confidence in Power of Inter-Allied Commission

FOOD, WATER SUPPLY CUT

Poles Start up Factories and Foundries While Germans Gather to Fight

Poles, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied high commission in Upper Silesia has sent delegations to intervene with both the Germans and Poles and endeavor to obtain the cessation of all military operations in that territory, according to French official dispatches today. The delegations are composed of French, British and Italian representatives.

London, May 23.—The British government has decided to send troops to Silesia at an early date, it is announced today.

The decision to send the troops resulted from an exchange of views between Great Britain and France, and the British force will be sent to reinforce the allied sentiment in Upper Silesia in the near future.

It is understood that not less than four battalions will go.

CONDITIONS REMAIN.

London, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The correspondent of the London Times in Oppeln reporting German "irregulars" military operations in Upper Silesia declare that Germany has been concentrating forces and making preparations for a fortnight. Indications, the dispatch said, point to a determined effort to recover possession of Upper Silesia from the Poles.

The movement is regarded by the correspondent as far more serious than a mere reaction of the German population against the inter-allied commission was unable to prevent the outbreak of fighting and is not just as powerless to intervene.

Apparently the Germans have regular army reserves at their disposal.

Poles Strengthen.

The Polish insurgents, according to the dispatch, have been steadily consolidating their positions and extending their control over the industrial districts of Silesia.

They are reported to have succeeded in starting work again in mines, foundries and factories and now are squeezing the allied authorities out of the towns they still occupy in order to complete their hold on the railways between Katowitz and Gleiwitz.

Cut Off Food Supply.

Every sort of pressure is being employed to compel the surrender of these two important towns. No food is being allowed to enter them but as this has not proved effective the water and electricity supply of Katowitz were cut off yesterday. Inhabitants of Bessen and Katowitz have approached their local district controllers according to the dispatch, and have asked them to make terms with the insurgents, declaring they were tired of waiting for the allies to do something and were without confidence in the inter-allied commission's power to restore order.

The correspondent declares that while the Poles are masters of the industrial district the Germans exercise control over the northern and western part of the plebscite area. The frontier between Silesia and Germany has virtually ceased to exist, he says, and arms and reinforcements are brought in and Polish prisoners sent to Germany without hindrance.

FORD OUTPUT BEYOND 1920

Present Production at Rate of 4,000 Per Day

Ford is building cars at full speed. And, according to an official statement from the factory at Detroit, the demand for Ford cars and trucks still exceeds the output, despite the fact that a new high level of production has been reached.

By the first of May the figures representing daily production were in the neighborhood of 4,000 a day, so the May schedule was set at 191,125 cars and trucks, not including the output of the Ford Canadian plant or any of the foreign assembly plants. The output mounted daily May 12th through, 4,092, the greatest number that have been produced in one day so far this year.

A comparison of Ford production figures for 1920 and 1921 discloses the fact that for April 1921, the output was greater by 31,514 than for the corresponding month of a year ago.

There is now no reason why our owners should delay buying tires, for this reduction has placed them in a position to buy tire quality and service at prices practically as low as those asked for other than standard brands."

Today at the matinee each child was presented with a box of candy, the Rex hereafter will make the children a present at each Saturday matinee.

MEMORIAL TREE PLAN APPROVED

Oakland Representative Believes
It Good Way to Honor
Heroes

The proposed plan to plant a tree along the National highways in honor of each man who served in the world war will find automobile owners among the strongest boosters. This is the opinion of the Corwin Motor company, local representatives of the Oakland Motor Car company.

Mr. Corwin believes that in addition to serving as a permanent memorial to the ex-service men, the plan will add greatly to the worth of these motor thoroughfares.

"Every motorist who is interested in the advancement of our principal highways will want to see this idea carried out," Mr. Corwin said. "Not only will it beautify the roads, but it also will make possible more pleasant driving."

"Auto owners along the highways, from one end to the other are certain to benefit. The three will make rain, sun, dust and wind shields. Increased vegetation promotes additional rainfall. This will be of great benefit in the barren regions."

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

"The Ford Coupe"

HERE is one of the most useful of all closed cars. Specifically so when not more than two or three are to be accommodated with reliable car service. The Ford Coupe is a mighty cosy car, in that it is absolutely water-tight, at the same time with its sliding plate glass windows you can have an open car, to all intents and purposes, in a couple of minutes. So it doesn't make any difference what the weather may be, rain or shine, summer or winter, in the Ford Coupe you have an enclosed car of comfort and service. What more do you want?

It has proven particularly a valuable car for traveling salesmen, physicians, engineers, architects, and others who have much out-of-door work all the year around. We have never been able to fully meet all demands for the Ford Coupe, but with the increased producing capacities of the factory we are now able to make reasonably prompt deliveries. Yet we urge you to leave your order with us little delay as possible—our allotment is limited.

BENEFIT CONCERT TO BE UNUSUAL MUSICAL EVENT

The benefit concert which is to be presented the evening of May 25th at the Presbyterian church promises to be an exceptionally fine one.

There will be a 4-b number by Mrs. Lash of Dickinson, whose voice has been much praised, and perhaps some other offerings from the St. Cecilia club of that city. Local musical talent will have a prominent place on the program which will include a piano number by Helen Stahler, a group of very fine three-voice songs by Cella and Florence Connolly and M. W. Gale, an organ prelude and selection by E. H. Tostevin, solo by Scott Conyne and other numbers not as yet announced.

The chorus of the Mandan Music club will sing an arrangement of one of the Strauss waltzes and Lohr's "Where My Caravan Has Rested," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Dimeyer, the Deethoven "Hymn to Night" with organ accompaniment by Mr. Tostevin and "The Heavens Are Telling" from the Creation, with both piano and pipe organ support.

Mrs. E. R. Griffen and her committee, who are in charge of the concert, feel that they will have a very worthy program to offer Mandan music lovers and visiting club women.

RECEPTION FOR MR. AND MRS. P. A. SMITH

A reception will be given Monday evening at the Presbyterian church for Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Smith. The affair, which is in the nature of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Smith by the various church societies with which they have been associated during their residence here.

Mr. Smith who has been the local manager of the Thompson Yards at Mandan, has been chosen for a larger field of responsibilities in the Minneapolis offices and the family will leave on the first of June for that city. They will be greatly missed by their many friends and the several organizations which have been profited by their membership.

CAMP DODGE TO BE MARKED

Des Moines, May 21.—Camp Dodge, where thousands of soldiers were trained for their part in the world war has passed away as a military camp, but the highway which led to and from Des Moines will be marked for future generations to remember not only the camp, but Merle Hay, the first Iowa killed in the war.

Largely through the efforts of Lafayette Young, former United States senator and publisher of the Des Moines Capital, the Merle Hay road was paved, and named. On Memorial day a sixteen ton boulder inscribed "Merle Hay Road, 1917" will be dedicated with formal and appropriate ceremonies.

Before the war the highway now

MANDAN LOSES FIRST GAME TO STANTON TEAM

Mandan lost the first game of the season at Stanton Sunday afternoon by a score of six to five.

The game was hard fought and Mandan apparently had the game on its side with a two run lead when Stanton came to bat in the ninth inning. In the ninth the Stanton staged a real battling rally. Ray Sievert the Stanton batting ace led the attack with a two ply blow and before the smoke cleared away, three counters had crossed the rubber.

Mandan fans who saw the game are not discouraged by the showing made and feel that the material is there for a real ball team.

COMMUNITY SING AFFAIR SUCCESS

A very fair audience attended the community sing at the Palace theatre on Sunday afternoon. Some excellent piano numbers were given by Miss Helen Stahler and Miss Catherine Valancey in solo and duet, and Jos. M. Devine gave a most inspiring talk on the influence of music.

A group of the old songs were very pleasingly interpreted by the musical club chorus and the rest of the program was devoted to community singing by the audience. Mr. Frank Gale led the singers in a short study of Mandan's song "Where the West Begins," and of his own composition the "Hymn of North Dakota" and Mrs. Emma G. Wheeler directed the singing of well loved songs and hymns.

LEW LACERATED

Freddie Hendrickson, a lad of fourteen years who lives on a farm near Mandan was the victim of a painful accident on Sunday afternoon, when a horse he was riding crowded him too close to a barbed wire fence and his leg was badly lacerated. He was immediately brought to the Mandan hospital and the wounds dressed. His hurts are not expected to prove serious.

POPULAR PASTIME

Fishing was a very popular pastime with Mandan people Sunday. One day during the last week a party consisting of J. H. Newton, C. F. Ellis and Louis Lyman returned from an early morning fish on the lower Heart with a fine string of pike, and a number of local anglers are out to beat their record.

Leaves for Home.

Mrs. John Helfrick left Sunday for her home in St. Anthony. Miss Helfrick, who was ill for several weeks at the Deaconess hospital, is now convalescing nicely.

John Bismarck Fans.

There being no game on the home diamond Sunday, a large number of Mandan baseball enthusiasts went to Bismarck to witness the Bismarck-Wilton game.

LEAVE FOR CHICAGO.

Mrs. Walter Renden and little son left Monday for Chicago. They will return about July 15th.

Guest of Mandan Friends.

Mrs. Eddie Wells of Cannonball is the guest of Mandan friends for the week-end.

named after Merle Hay was just an ordinary Iowa country road, at times in rather poor condition.

After Camp Dodge was located near the city Mr. Young with a few others became active in having it paved. It was hard surfaced with brick, and so arranged that day and night traffic was permitted at a speed of 50 miles an hour, the year around, between the camp and the city.

The paved part of the highway is about 4.1-2 miles in length. The marker will stand about equal distance from each end of the paved section, on the highest spot, from which the state capitol and Camp Dodge both are visible.

November 3, 1917, Merle Hay was killed in a raid near Bethelmont, France. He was one of three Americans killed at the time. At the suggestion of Mr. Young it was decided to name a highway after the young man. Before the city named a street Merle Hay, the board of supervisors of Polk county gave the highway leading to Camp Dodge that name. The city council on the same day took the same action.

Widow of Ralph Thomas Bids Fair to Attain Title Higher than That Held by Former Mrs. Leeds.

BY R. H. WHITNEY.

New York, May 23.—I have just talked with a woman who may be the first American to be addressed as "Your majesty." She is the Princess Viora, formerly Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould and more recently Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

If she attains the throne of Albania, as seems possible, she bids fair to eclipse socially Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds, who through her marriage to Prince Christopher of Greece has climbed the royal ladder higher than any other American woman.

Princess Viora is in New York "on business," while her royal consort Prince Viora, is at their house in Paris, arranging plans to ascend the throne of his grandfather.

HOME SWEET HOME
Today's most popular jazz selection will be out of date a year hence, or less, but "Home, Sweet Home" still makes hearts weep wherever English is spoken, through it is a hundred years old this year.

It has power to turn back the footsteps of the wandering boy and to call home the exile. And, strangely enough, the song came from the heart of a wanderer who never knew what it was to have a home—John Howard Payne, an actor and soldier of fortune, who was born in America and died in Africa.

Measured only by the standards of material success, John Howard Payne's life was a failure. Most of it was a struggle with poverty. One winter night while wandering homeless in the streets of New York, he passed a cozy home, and there came to his ears from the parlor the strains of his own "Home, Sweet Home."

Years after his death in Tunis, Algeria, John Howard Payne's body was brought to America and a grateful country paid its highest tributes to the wanderer who sang:

An exile from home, splendor dazzles in vain!
Oh, give me my lowly thatched cottage again.
The birds singing gaily that come at my call—
Give me them! and the peace of mind, dearer than all.

Home, sweet home, sweet, sweet home,
There's no place like home.

BETTER PATENT YOUR NAME
If the shade of Grover Cleveland could be interviewed, what would he say of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll who has dishonored the good name that was given him?

He would probably ask: "Why didn't they pick on Judas Iscariot or Benedict Arnold when they were naming that boy?"

Great men have no protection against infringement on their names by the unworthy. We read of a George Washington Somebody-or-other who is arrested for beating his wife. And occasionally one hears of a boy named after William McKinley doing something he shouldn't.

The William Tafts and the Theodore Roosevelts are still children, as are the Woodrow Wilsons. And we must wait till 1940, at least, until we hear anything good or bad from the Warren G. Hardings of whom there is now a numerous tribe.

The boys who were named after Ulysses S. Grant are middle-aged men by now and they must be law-abiding, quiet citizens, for they seldom get their names in the papers.

Still, if Grover Cleveland Bergdoll has sullied a great and good name, the same name has been honored by none other than Grover Cleveland Alexander, who was a good soldier and is a great pitcher.

Parents who confer upon their children a great man's name are under obligations to see to it that their children live up to that name.

Movies show British business giants stoking furnaces in the fuel famine. In a similar crisis, American leaders would go around making "pep" speeches.

IF YOUR DOWN IN THE MOUTH
Of 3,256 French villages in which all life was suspended during the war, 3,216 have come back to life. The inhabitants have returned to rebuild their homes and their fortunes. The remaining 40 villages were so shot to pieces as to be altogether uninhabitable.

We human beings are a wonderful breed, after all, even with our faults. We are knocked down, and apparently out; but before long we are on our feet again, and, wiping the blood from our faces, we go back with a smile to whatever we happened to be doing.

Cities crumble, fortunes are wiped out, but faith and hope and love are eternal, and together they resume their song in men's hearts soon after the first shock of disaster.

What American soldier believed the inhabitants would ever return to the wrecked French villages whence they had fled? Desolation and ruin seemed complete. As a picture of despair it seemed nothing could be added to the scene.

And yet the current of life flows strong again in all but 40 of those villages, and, doubtless, the cabbages and the turnips soon will be bursting through earth that was churned by shell-fire and covered with the debris of crushed stone.

There is no irreparable desolation except that which we nurture in our own hearts.

There is no hopelessness except that which we hold to our bosoms as if it were a treasure of rare price. Hope and faith are trying to sing in our hearts always, if we will but listen.

If you are down in the mouth the story of the reviving French villages should give you new courage.

A lot of us save time and don't know what to do with it after we've saved it.

$2,500 AN ACRE
The avocado, or alligator pear, is a salad fruit known to a few. The limited supply is increasing, but the supply is exceeded by the growing demand.

It's a tropical fruit. Some of the best varieties have been imported from Central America, and now are being developed in southern California.

The supply is kept down by quarantine which prevents new importation of trees, and the culture in this country is still experimental.

Meanwhile, the few growers who are successful are getting rich. One man planted 86 acres eight years ago, and recently sold ten acres of his orchard for $25,000.

Plant development may make avocados as plentiful and cheap as oranges, which once were rare and costly. But most growers think that will not be for ten years yet. Meanwhile, a portion of the salad, in the few restaurants that serve it, costs $1.00.

As a step toward universal peace, let's call it the War Debt instead of the National Debt.

TAFT FOR CHIEF JUSTICE?

The passing of Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court after more than a quarter of a century of service, creates a vacancy in a position second only to that of the presidency itself in importance.

In fact, in many of its aspects the chief justiceship embodies more authority and dignity than the presidency.

If it were possible to strike a balance, it could probably be demonstrated that during his long tenure as chief justice, the sum total of the influence of White's activities on the nation as a whole and the individuals composing it, has been greater than that of any president who has served during the same period.

In this view of the matter, the appointment of a successor to the late chief justice will be one of the most, if not the most, important duties that President Harding will be called upon to perform during his presidency.

The man most prominently suggested for this great office is former President Taft. During the eight years that have passed since Taft left the White House, he has undoubtedly grown tremendously in public esteem. His appointment to the chief justiceship would cause less criticism, even among the ultra-progressives, than would have been thought possible immediately following his overwhelming defeat for a second presidential term.

NEWBERRY AT HIS DESK

Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan is shown at his desk in the Senate office building, Washington, following his acquittal on charges of illegal election practices in the contest with Henry Ford.

Judge Robinson Discusses Initiative And Explains Use Voters May Make Of It

(By Chief Justice Robinson.)
I do believe in the initiative, the referendum and the recall. I do believe that at the last Presidential Primary and the last general election the initiative was well used to secure the passage of some good laws and the recall amendment. By statute, ten thousand electors at large may propose any measure—any bill for a law—by initiative petition. The petition must state the full text of the measure and be filed with the Secretary of State not less than ninety days before the election at which it is to be voted upon.

"Each measure shall be voted upon at a statewide election designated in the petitions, or at a special election called by the Governor." If the Governor fail to call a special election, then a recall petition against him may be filed with the Secretary of State, and he shall call a special election. Thus to secure a special election on the first Tuesday of November, during the month of July, the people may file initiative petitions on measures of great importance, requesting the Governor to submit the same to a vote of the people and for that purpose to call a special election to be held on the first Tuesday of November, 1921. Then, if the Governor fail to call a special election, it may be called by the Secretary of State on filing a petition for recall of the Governor, and such petition shall be filed not less than forty nor more than forty-five days before the election day.

Perfect Report.
Under proper laws it matters little who is Governor, but under the present system the people have a perfect right to file initiative petitions for the enactment of such laws as they deem important, and if the Governor obstructs the initiative by refusing to call a special election, the remedy is to file a recall. By filing in July initiative petitions for the enactment of important laws, the people may have the full benefit of the same for over one and one-half years in advance of any such laws as might perchance be enacted by the Legislative Assembly. A law enacted by a vote of the people takes effect on the thirtieth day after the election, unless otherwise specified in the measure. Now it is well known that at the last session of the Legislative Assembly, by reason of party strife and other causes, few, if any good laws were enacted; and at the next session of the Legislature the same conditions may prevail, and yet by way of the initiative the people have power to enact any measure or law they may desire and to give the same immediate effect. They can make laws cheaper and better than any Legislative Assembly. By the passage of some good laws the people can easily benefit themselves millions of dollars. The expense of a special election is as nothing compared with the benefits sure to result from the passage of good laws. The people have power to reduce the oppressive burdens of taxation and the rates exacted by common carriers, and the way to do it, or to start the ball rolling, is for a dozen or more responsible citizens to form a club and draft or formulate the proposed laws and initiative petitions. Then to have several thousand copies printed and circulated for signatures. If the measures submitted appeal to citizens many will gladly volunteer to circulate the same without any reward, but in any event the petitions should be secured, authenticated and filed before the last day of July. That before the last day of July, if the Governor will do his duty by calling a special election.

If the people want their present tax burdens, they are entitled to have them continued; if not, they may rebate and throw off the burdens. They may repeal all the newfangled tax laws of 1919 and return to the simple and inexpensive mode of assessment and taxation which existed years ago. And, if they do not care for the new boards and commissions, they may dispense with some of them.

PEOPLES' FORUM

Bismarck, May 21.

To Editor Tribune:
While here in the Bismarck hospital I have met people from all parts of the state and from every walk of life and as a freeholder in Dunn county am very much interested in affairs of state and politics in particular at the present time. Hearing how plowing and planting is progressing over the state it looks like there would be fully 100 per cent of all old acreage seeded and that the Nonpartisan farmers are forsaking their leaders who coined the slogan "summer fallow and fight." The leaders are not even doing that themselves. They are busy at Fargo "Harvesting" and "Fighting" for more funds to fill their pockets. If the truth was known and they kept books to show their totals as they should have, if they were on the square and would publish same, it would total millions and not a cent returned to them in any way. Nor will they until they get rid of the Socialist leader. Even Ex-President Taft says the organization is very undemocratic and it is just what the leaders make it, now what the farmers want, for anyone knows the farmers in this state will average up with any state in the union for Americanism. But they have simply been misled, misguided by the leaders who are gloating over their losses.

Some time ago some said "they made the bed of thorns, let them sleep in them," but I have for one worked hard for my home for fifteen years and am not going to sleep in that bed of thorns. They have stuck me good and plenty and if we will all work as I intend to, our farmers, Crangers and Gleaners of North Dakota can and will make again our bed to suit ourselves.

I started with them after all the promises but left them as soon as I saw they organized for graft and nothing else and since that time have worked against them and will ever try to guide my neighbors toward the right road.

The class hatred alone established here in the state is enough to put them out. I was proud of our little struggling business men, as were you and everyone else, except a few who are the leaders of the league today. They never made a success of their own affairs and will not where they are now. They will bankrupt us that is what they will do. The sooner we make up our mind that they are wrong and are men enough to say so, the sooner will our state get back to living again. Brace up, brothers, con-

FRANK PALMER, ONE OF PIONEERS IN BREAKING TRAILS IN NORTH DAKOTA

The death of Frank Palmer, of Devils Lake, recently, recalled to many citizens the early pioneer days, when the trains were broken through North Dakota and the white man carried the business of agriculture a step westward.

Probably no other name is more closely linked with the early history of Devils Lake and the Lake Region than that of Frank Palmer. He was a pioneer of pioneers, and boasted that to him is due the credit for turning the first sod in the Lake Region ever turned by a white man, and planting therein the first grain seed.

This was in 1881, before the homesteaders invaded the new country then known as the land of the Sioux Indians, who were driven out of Minnesota after the famous or rather infamous uprising of that merciless Sioux chief, Little Crow, who himself also escaped to Devils Lake and attempted to rehabilitate his forces for a new uprising.

Came in 1868.
Frank Palmer came to the Lake Region, April 9, 1868, settling in Fort Totten, Benson county, and after following the occupation of mail carrier for a government contractor, soon made his permanent home in Fort Totten as a licensed Indian trader. At that time the only means of securing feed for the soldiers' horses was by way of the Missouri river, then by wagon trains to the reservation, which was not only expensive transportation, but consumed much time and brought about many hardships, especially in the winter season. Mr. Palmer finally hit upon the idea of experimenting with the land on which he was located, and finding out if it were possible to grow oats there. He had about 200 acres of land, and horses of his own which needed feeding. So in the summer of 1880 he secured some seed oats from St. Louis, brought by way of the Missouri and the wagon trains, and the following spring he planted them. They yielded 84 bushels of oats to the acre.

Crop Was Surprise.
Speaking in latter years of his successful experiment, Mr. Palmer said: "It was a bigger crop than I ever got afterward. I sold some of it to the government, used some of it myself, and next spring when the settlers rushed in there was a big demand for it for seed and for feed for their horses. That crop was a surprise to me, but I would have laughed at any one who would have told me that people would be raising corn successfully around Devils Lake some day."

Mr. Palmer had been living a retired life for a number of years, living with his sister, Miss Prang of Devils Lake. He was born in Eaton, Preble county, Ohio, May 1, 1847, and came to the Lake Region from Fort Peck, Mont. His wife died last year. He has served in the Civil war, enlisting when he was only 14-1-2 years of age having been one of the youngest soldiers in the Union army, and serving from 1862 to the end of the war.

THIS WOMAN SAYS SHE WAS AT WIT'S END

Mrs. Burkheart Didn't Know Which Way To Turn For Relief, She Says—

Tanlac Restores Her

"Tanlac has meant health to me, and no one ever comes in our home now without hearing something about it," said Mrs. G. Burkheart, who resides on Edgington street, St. Paul, Minn.

"I had been in failing health for some time and was badly run down and weak and felt that it wouldn't be long until I would have to give up. My digestion was so poor that I ate but little and even then suffered great distress. My nerves were worn to a frazzle and I lost sleep night after night. I had rheumatism and backache and felt so discouraged I was at my wit's end to know which way to turn for relief. I had frequent headaches and at times had sudden dizzy spells."

"But I'm so glad I gave Tanlac a trial because it has proved to be a friend in need. I have taken only three bottles, but already I am enjoying splendid health. My appetite is just fine and everything I eat seems to digest perfectly. My nerves are as steady as can be and I haven't a pain of any kind and sleep soundly all night long. Tanlac is a grand medicine. It has certainly been a blessing to me."

Continue to plow, plant, and you will surely prosper.

Very truly,
J. T. Harvey, Dodge, N. D.

OUR LULLABY

(Victor Stone)

I do not ask of you tonight
One yearning fond embrace
I do not even ask to feel
Your kiss upon my face.
I do not ask for all these things
Which stronger hours love best
For I am tired tonight and want
But you my own and rest.

I only ask that you I love
Into my arms to creep;
And through the long, long night
Shall be
Love's tenderest love and sleep.

THE LARK

(By Florence Bonner.)

Down in the meadow a lark sings its song;
Fitting and soaring the blue skies among;
List to its music as onward it swells,
Rhythmic and chiming like silvery bells.

What is she saying in notes sweet and clear?
What is the message she brings to us here?
Green earth below her, and blue sky above,
Naught could she speak of excepting true love.

Rise, noble songster, thy pinions unfold,
Sing of the beauties which earth life hold;
Sing of the raptures in heaven above,
Sing on, thou bearer of infinite love.

Fain would I follow where'er thou dost fly,
Bearing thy message of love upon high;
There would I find all my friends gone before,
There would I dwell in sweet peace evermore.

AT THE BISMARCK

Bill Hart is some scrapper, as everybody knows, but in his new Paramount picture, "The Testing Block" which comes to the Bismarck theatre tonight, he is a veritable super-man. A strapping muscular hand, with a lovely girl who plays the violin, winds through the trails of the California Sierras in the days of gold. Mr. Hart is chief of the bandit gang. They force the players to entertain them in the heart of the redwood forest. The half-savage outlaws are avid in their desire to capture the girl and "Sierra" Bill. (Mr. Hart) forces them to fight him, one by one, for the right to claim her. He beats them all and then, himself half-crazed, seeks the girl and forces her to marry him. That is the beginning of a story of human tragedy and joy, which unfolds in a mighty sequence of compelling incidents.

"BEAU REVEL" AT THE ELTINGE.

Lewis Stone, Florence Vidor and Lloyd Hughes head the cast of "Beau Revel" showing at the Eltinge today and tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Stone's work in that remarkable production, "The River's Embrace" can never be forgotten. The story for the "Beau Revel" picture was written by Louis Vance and is founded on the love intrigues of a wealthy, ultra-fashionable New York man-about-town and the picture embodies the novel and original theme of father and son as rival suitors for a lady's favor. Ballrooms of palatial proportions, fashionable apartments, and country clubs frequented by the most exclusive members of the "smart set" furnish attractive surroundings for the love escapades of the wealthy and worldly-wise Lawrence Revel, Florence Vidor, Lloyd Hughes and Lewis Stone have the leading roles.

JULY GOES UP.
Chicago, May 23.—Highest prices yet this season were reached today for the July delivery of wheat. Hot, dry weather and extremely unfavorable crop reports gave a big advantage to the bulls and induced heavy buying in which exports were conspicuous. Opening quotations which varied from one-half cent decline to 2-3/4 cents advance with July, $1.27 1/2 to $1.28 1/2 were followed by a moderate general setback and then a sharp advance all around.

Later the advance was checked by selling based on the fact that prices had been on the upturn for more than a week. The close was unsettled one-half cent net lower to 2 1/4 cents advance.

BISMARCK TEAM OPENS SEASON HERE WITH 9 TO 1 VICTORY

Locals Easily Take Game From Wilton With Big Opening Crowd Present

MINOT LAST OF WEEK

Nearly all the happenings necessary for the successful opening of a new ball park were contained in the Bismarck-Wilton game Sunday afternoon. The local team won, the day was real baseball weather, the crowd was large and there were a number of thrills. The only disappointment was that the game was one-sided, Bismarck winning 9 to 1.

A lot of fans, got a lot of pleasure out of viewing the new park. The fans' committee might well have blushed in face of some of the remarks. The field is excellent, although the infield is rough, and there will be some excusable errors for a few games until some of the bumps have disappeared. The grandstand is well located, there is plenty of parking space for automobiles and the crowd sits far enough from the field to get the right perspective on the game.

Christy Breaks Ice.

The game started out well. Flaherty and Higgins, southpaws, were opposing. There are some who claim Flaherty is a five-inning pitcher. He may be, but he looked mighty good in the box yesterday and with proper support the score would have been much closer. Higgins lived up to expectations, with a cool head, a change of pace and a fast breaking curve. He should have scored a shut-out, but for a bit of ragged playing.

The fans were right glad to take off their hats to "Christy" Christensen for breaking the ice. His long, three-bagger in the third inning started the

DEMPSEY RULES FRENCH FAVORITE

Paris, May 23.—Public wagers on the New Jersey prize fight were made last week with Dempsey ruling the favorite over Georges Carpentier, the French champion.

New Salem defeated Center, 14 to 7, and Flasher beat Hell 6 to 0, in Sunday baseball games.

PLAYERS TO REPORT.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—Morley Jennings, with the Minneapolis club of the American association last season, is expected to report to Manager Joe Cantillon this week to fill the vacancy left by Tom Stevenson, who jumped the local club, and is reported to be with the club at Franklin.

Stevenson left the Minneapolis club without announcing his departure, after he had failed to show the form expected him at bat and in the field. The Minneapolis club paid $3,000 to the Birmingham club in the Southern association for Stevenson.

MANDAN TEAM DEFEATED

The prison team defeated a team from Mandan Saturday afternoon, 5 to 4. The Mandan team was composed of state training school and Mandan players.

A HUMANE CONSTABLE.

The constable of a little country village was a man of excellent good nature. One day, however, he found it necessary to lock up three tramps who had strayed into his jurisdiction.

Shortly after the arrest he was met by the mayor of the village, who, observing the constable burying down the main street, asked:

"Where are you going, constable?"

"Oh," explained P. C. 40, "the three tramps I've just locked up want to play whist, and I'm out hunting for a fourth."—London Answers.

Far From Independent.

"You are a fortunate man," said the automobile tourist.

"How's that?" asked the farmer.

"You are monarch of all you survey."

"I guess you are wrong, stranger. I still owe nine installments on that tractor you see, my hired man won't pay any attention to what I say, and there's a mortgage on the old home place."

Misunderstood.

"Have you stove-lifters?" asked the little woman in the department store.

"You'll find the derick department in the basement, madam," replied the floorwalker.

STATE SOCIETY IN MEETING

Catholic Daughters of America
Holds State Convention

The state convention of Catholic Daughters of America went into session at ten o'clock this morning at Elks hall. The sessions will include much routine business, interspersed with short addresses from visiting members. Mrs. Eleanor Smith, State Grand Regent is in attendance at the session. Delegates from seven counties have already arrived and all state officers are present. It is probable that the action of the national headquarters in changing the name of the organization from Daughters of Isabella to that of Catholic Daughters of America will be ratified by the state courts in convention here.

A banquet in the dining room of the Grand Pacific this evening at 6:30 will be one of the leading social affairs in connection with the meeting. An interesting program of toasts will follow the banquet, with Mrs. F. A. Knowles as toast mistress.

The convention will continue through tomorrow and much business of interest to the state court at large will be attended to.

Don't forget the dance at the Elks Hall tomorrow night, given by the A. O. U. W.

Wm. S. Hart is at the Bismarck Theatre tonight in his new big feature "The Testing Block."

BISMARCK BOY WINS FIRST IN STATE CONTEST

Lyle Tong, of Bismarck, won first place in the saxophone division of the state high school music contest at Grand Forks. The press dispatches to The Tribune Saturday on the contest did not carry the result of the saxophone contest.

In addition Miss Mary Atkinson won second place in the piano contest and Norman DeVol won honorable mention in the soprano solo contest.

William O'Connor, the Ft. Thomas high school boy, who won first in the solo division, is a brother of Clarence O'Connor, who has had the patronage of John McCormack, the famous Irish tenor, for two years.

COLLEGE MASQUE "MAN FROM HOME"

The Jamestown College players now affiliated with the "Masquerade" of Minnesota and Pennsylvania universities and bearing the name of that organization, will present at the Bismarck auditorium on Saturday evening, May 28, "The Man From Home," Booth Tarkington's most clever comedy, which on its initial presentation ran a whole year at both New York and Chicago. The plot of this charming play is laid in Sorrento, Italy, shortly before the late war and the situations center about an American heiress and her American guardian. The dramatic element is furnished by a Russian fugitive whose capture frustrates the plans of an impoverished family of the English nobility who are seeking to replenish their fortunes through an alliance with American wealth. The clever Italian maitre d' hotel, a Russian duke, and picturesque Neapolitan carabinieri, not to omit, the young English "dude," add to the interest. Gypsy musicians with their melodies create an effective background for the action. Roy McLeod will play the part of the "Man From Home" and Miss Eldora Ellsworth that of the American heiress.

Three former Bismarck high school students will be with the troupe, George Register, Reuben Strutz and Catherine McAllister.

FISHIN' WITH THE IMMORTALS

Fishing up the Missouri on a holiday afternoon one finds more or less diversion, but to fall in with a fishing party of the boys right out of books does not come to one every day. But there on the bank of Old Muddy they were: Mark Twain's two favorite sons, Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn; Aldrich's Bad Boy; the Minneapolis Cartoonist's Fleckles and Tan, Jimmy Foley's Henry Blake, Field's Little Boy Blue, one of Joel Chandler Harris' favorites, and a yellow dog. You see, you may not break into a select fishing party; you must be accepted in by degrees.

The Party was enthusiastic at four of the afternoon; they were on the scene of the festivities at five in the morning. The background of tender young willows was further enhanced by a fringe of cast-off apparel—all the accessories to society, and the party spent the day but slightly hampered. For that matter, the fellows whose shoes reposed in the willows and those who kept on shoes and stockings met the Missouri on the same footing: Everybody waded in. Four of afternoon, being society hour along the Missouri, the blue serge young men with their silk shirts and sweet hearts, cast envious, though outwardly disapproving eyes at the fishing party, but when one inquired "what luck" and one of the younger set held up a twelve-pound carp, bound by the gills to a cottonwood log and still lively, all appearance of expected disapproval vanished, the blue serge and the fragments of denim met man to man. Up from behind the log were hauled fair to middling of carp, a croppie that fairly made one hungry just to spy, whitfish just the right size, and all the rest of it. There was a sight for the gods. And what equipment was sufficient for this haul? Varying lengths of string, plentifully pierced with honest knots; fish hooks from anywhere, and good and sufficient railroad spikes for sinkers. Tied to a bit of stick driven into the mud on the bank, the lines swung untrotted by two much watching, while the boys played "skip" in the wet sand. To be sure there was not unalloyed peace. An odd time when some fellow wiped his feet on another fellow's handkerchief, the same calling for extemporaneous speaking, one was prompted to wonder if Tallyrand had ever attended such a party and yet could opine that "language was created to conceal thoughts."

That was a party worth going to, and when the sun stretched a load of gold across the water, the boys slipped back into the dog-eared books, the sight-seers drifted away and the day was done.

MRS. CALL HOSTESS

Mrs. Nellie Call was hostess on Saturday afternoon from three to five to a party who had breakfasted at the Country club in honor of Miss Anne Atkinson in the forenoon. The afternoon affair was in the way of a dance, so the young guests found the music at play in the long living room of the hostess's home when they arrived. The guests swept into the dance immediately upon entering, all brisk and happy from the breakfast on the Country Club hill. The dancing continued merrily until five, when small tables were laid all about the living room and a delightful course luncheon was served by the hostess. Pink was the scheme of decoration and the daintiest of May festivities ended a perfect day for the young guest of honor and her friends.

PRETTY SUNDAY DINNER

Dr. A. M. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher entertained a small group of friends at a two o'clock dinner on Sunday. Covers were laid for ten, a number of whom leave shortly for their summer homes at the lakes. The hostess used a dainty decorations of wild wood violets on the dining table and other spring flowers about the living room.
